No more masks!

We need to keep our sense of humor, but our Second Amendment protected right to possess and bear arms is the linchpin to our freedom and liberty. Everything else is compromised, and they are now coming hard for our guns. The hate filled anti-Americans have used fear to close our churches and schools, attack and silence free speech, compromise the media and freedom of the press, and stifle our ability to gather and exchange or express ideas face to face. Even the highest court in our land, the Supreme Court, has denied us the right to the redress of our grievances. At this point, the only stumbling block for the haters of America is our Second Amendment right. Everything that is near and dear to us depends on our ability to keep that sacred right. We are fortunate to have an army of civilian patriots who have served our country in different positions in the past and who will stand and defend our nation again if that is needed. To be clear, this is not a Republican or Democrat issue. It isn't even a political issue although the deceivers try to use politics to keep us divided and at war with each other. This war for global power is SPIRITUAL. Their ultimate goal is not the worship of our living God, it is the worship of Lucifer. Something that happened over the weekend proves that fact. Over the weekend, police invaded church services in England and Canada threatening fines and arrest if the congregants didn't disperse. Can you imagine quietly sitting in a worship service in your church and seeing police storm in and demand that you and your fellow churchgoers leave? Meanwhile, the worship of Satan, the rioting, looting, and destruction of cities and of our national Capitol building goes unpunished. It's all done right in our faces, but the left's control of the media keeps it hidden from thousands of people who only watch mainstream news or perhaps no news at all. Sadly, they are the same people who accept mandates from the politicians in power as if they had been passed into law by our legislators. These people are so indoctrinated by now that it is likely that some will never feel safe removing their masks. This psychological damage is a result of the fear porn perpetrated by the political and corporate criminals who colluded with China in the work to produce a virus and who also used the media to spread the fear and lies. They have won a few battles along the way including the invasion of our country by illegal aliens through our southern border, and this invasion is ongoing. However, any attempt to confiscate our firearms would not end well for them. Frederick Douglass said, "A man's rights rests on three boxes. The ballot box, the jury box, and the cartridge box."

President Trump's goal was to bring America back to its former glory by bringing back our factories that had been shipped to foreign countries. That move along with the renegotiation of trade deals restored the jobs we so badly needed. It also restored our economy. President Trump has said, "Peace is the Prize," and he set about achieving that, too. He developed strong relationships with the most unlikely leaders such as Kim Jong-un of North Korea, and the constant threat of a war started by that country vanished. He visited foreign countries and was given lavish welcomes which were not customary. Even China allowed him a visit to the Forbidden City which had never before been permitted for an American President. He built the wall, and the illegal alien crossings dropped accordingly. Thanks to President Trump there was another miracle taking place in the Middle East. Peace accords were signed between Israel and several Arab countries. There were so many achievements, and it was all accomplished without even a hint of war. Sun Tzu said, "The greatest victory is that which requires no battle." (President Trump, we miss your winning, "A+++" guidance at the helm of the ship of state!)

President Trump is making regular statements on his Save America PAC, and the Socialist wrecking crew that currently inhabits Washington D.C. is getting an earful. He is also using his powerful voice to recruit and endorse candidates for the 2022 election. For obvious reasons, Election Integrity is something President Trump is particularly concerned about. He has two powerful surrogates in this battle. They are Steve Bannon and Mike Lindell, neither of whom will ever give up. Bannon has Dan Schultz on his "War Room" show regularly to give updates, and activists are showing up and signing up to help. North Carolina was mentioned this week as a great success. Convention delegate sign-ups are at record levels across the country. In addition, Lindell is focused on proving how the election fraud was accomplished. He has hired investigators and forensic experts and is spotlighting the proof through videos. His website, lindelltv.com, is where he posts his videos. We are winning in spite of the chaos being created by the evil denizens of D.C. Stay away from negative, fake news, stay positive, and seek out ways to help improve Election Integrity in NC. We know President Trump is staying positive because he ended his last statement with, "The Best Is Yet To Come."

There comes a time when a free people have to decide when their government has exceeded its authority and is arbitrarily curtailing freedom. That time has come for Governor Cooper's mask mandate.

The National Center for Disease Control (CDC) recently announced that people who have been vaccinated and/or have had the China virus and recovered do not carry the virus, cannot spread the virus, and consequently do not need to wear a face mask. Given this information, one should expect that the Cooper administration would rapidly revoke the mask mandate in North Carolina as has been done previously in several other states (without any spike in virus cases). This would allow people to get back to normal lives with no restrictions. In addition, the CDC recently changed the social distance recommendation from six feet to three feet. There is no scientific evidence on any specific social distance recommendation showing a decrease in virus spread. This should allow all schools to open without restrictions. However, instead of admitting this, the government is attempting to keep control by reducing, but not eliminating, any social distancing requirement.

This thinly veiled desire by our government to control our freedom and to control us is not compatible with the notion of a free people. Is it time for civil disobedience?

The rules from the Cooper administration are not only arbitrary and controlling, but are a violation of the intent of the Emergency Powers Act since the Governor has consistently refused to obtain the endorsement of the Council of State and the approval of the General Assembly. The tyranny of one man rule is upon us. The question becomes, what are we going to do about it?

Complying with arbitrary and unconstitutional rules by our government is no small thing. It represents our willingness to give up our freedom and liberty and to blindly, mindlessly follow the "leader" who is, of course, a tyrannical dictator at this point.

How old are you? Can you remember Nazi Germany? If not, have you read accurate accounts of what happened there? Well, I'll tell you exactly what the people of Germany did. They gave up their freedom bit by bit until at last they realized unconscionable things were happening, but most of them were so frozen by fear that they couldn't force themselves to do anything about it. It was too late for the German people and for the people whose lives they could have saved.

The German government intrusions on freedom began small. For example, the Nazi party required all Germans to greet each other by raising their right arm and saying, "Heil Hitler." The German people were intimidated into compliance even though the Nazi party was a minority party at the time. Are we going to allow ourselves to be intimidated in a similar way? What will you do if an out of control federal government starts requiring you to show a vaccine ID card to travel on public transportation and the like? How will you respond to unreasonable restrictions? Restrictions that limit your freedom of movement? Your employability? How about when the government requires you to register semiautomatic firearms? How about when the government comes to confiscate your "military style" firearms?

People who choose to wear a mask should be free to do so. The rest of us should be free to choose not to. I call this freedom; leftists call it not being "socially responsible" just like the Nazis. To remain free, people must act free. I have been vaccinated. I choose not to wear a mask. How about you? Is it time for civil disobedience? You decide. I already have. I'm not going to wait until the choices have narrowed to either comply out of fear, or to join others in using "military style" firearms to defend myself and others from a tyrannical government which has grown so oppressive it needs to be forcibly thrown off our backs. What will you decide? This might be a good time to make the decision.
