

TRUMP Report Card

by Constance Hanna conniehanna131@gmail.com

BACK THE BLUE! Law enforcement officers are under assault in our country right now. It is mainly taking place in large cities in blue states, but there are pockets of disrespect for them in red states as well. They are our first line of defense to maintain law and order in our communities and to protect our liberty and freedoms. Compare that mental image with the chaos and tyranny that we see in parts of our country and around the world when they are told to "stand down." The men and women in blue volunteer to stand in the breach every day for us, and they do so in spite of the danger and disrespect they face. We should honor, respect, and support them, and that is the purpose of the annual "Back the Blue" ceremony that CCTA is having on May the 18th. The program is scheduled for 7:00 p.m. at Stanley Hall Ballroom in downtown New Bern. Please attend to show your appreciation for these courageous men and women in blue.

The 2020 election audit continues in Arizona, and the Maricopa County Board of Commissioners is fighting it every step of the way. However, their efforts have failed to stop or even slow the process of the audit. The latest discovery is that the Board doesn't even have the administrator password. This means that the Maricopa County Board abdicated the responsibility of election oversight and allowed Dominion personnel to have total control of the voting process. Ultimately, that means that the employees of Dominion were running the election in Arizona. What could possibly go wrong? How much money changed hands in order to transfer that control? Who received that money? Who benefited? We will know eventually, but the correct process is a long, slow one.

The Antrim County, Michigan audit is also currently being conducted. The latest news from Michigan came last Friday from Matthew DePerno. Did you see what he posted on twitter? He posted, "(1) 1,061 phantom ballots discovered in Antrim, (2) nearly 100% turnout between ages 65 and 80, (3) 20.3% of all ballots sent to PO Boxes." He explained phantom ballots this way, "1,061 ballots are not in the state database and do not exist on voter rolls, meaning they are likely phantom ballots." Due to the latest revelations, officials are calling for a forensic audit of the entire state. Who would have thought that a County as small as Antrim would be attacked and votes stolen? That would tend to indicate that election fraud was much wider in this country than we first suspected, wouldn't it? Therefore, wouldn't it make sense to audit every state?

People are naturally restless and upset that this happened and that it is taking so long to be resolved, but the auditing process must be done right, and the good news is that it is being done right in Maricopa County with daily updates and real transparency. To allay the angst we're feeling, President Trump said, "It will all come back BIGGER and BETTER and STRONGER than ever before. Do not worry." He has never broken a promise to us, but nevertheless, we ARE concerned for our country and rightfully so. A patriot and loyal reader from Pamlico County sent an email this week requesting the PDF link to the ES&S System Overview Manuel. It's great to know that readers are interested and concerned about the North Carolina election integrity. Thank you to all of those who read and are willing to take action. (It's been a good week. President Trump, the auditors, and citizens like our friend from Pamlico County ALL get "A+s!")

The people who are striving to bring America down to the level of a third world country are beginning to face the wrath of the spirit of America. America is different from any other country in the world. It is the only country conceived in the concept that our citizens have God given rights and the purpose of government is to protect those rights. Patriots across the country are organizing to make a plan for peaceful resistance against the encroachment on our liberty that is taking place. The playbook that the evil ones are using is the same used in communist takeovers in other parts of the world. You know what I mean. Create chaos (think Antifa and Black Lives Matter), and when people are sufficiently panicked, they will beg for safety and law and order at any cost. The ploy is called "Order out of Chaos," and it is being implemented right in front of our eyes. However, the bad guys in black hats knew that wouldn't be enough in this country because we are an armed society. They understood that their normal plan which is to disarm the people first would prove too costly in America. So what did they do? Why they created a virus that was supposed to keep us terrified for years and locked in our homes with only fake news to feed us propaganda. How is that plan working out? Ha! Once again, patriots like Mike Lindell and Steve Bannon (as well as so many other lesser known people who have their own followings) have stepped up and are providing the real news. Still, the evil we're dealing with runs dark and deep; their latest gambit is to make ammunition scarce and to strike at the heart of the family by recreating the gas crisis of the Jimmy Carter years. The struggle isn't over, but we ARE up to the task for the sake of our country and the generations to follow. The evil ones never once thought we would GAIN strength as the punishment continued, but take heart because we ARE gaining strength, and as our President Trump continues to remind us, "The Best Is Yet To Come!"

Is foreign money controlling NC schools?

by Raynor James raynor@cctaxpayers.com

That's a scary headline, isn't it? Am I serious about it? You bet I am. Let me tell you why.

On Tuesday, May 11, I attended a meeting at Moore's Barbeque on MLK in New Bern at which Sloan Rachmuth was the principle speaker. Sloan is the president of the Education First Alliance and she's also an investigative reporter. She's also very brave and very smart, and is a very good speaker. In short, she's a pistol! There were lots of other Coastal Carolina Taxpayers Association (CCTA) members there, and there were other conservative people from Beaufort, Carteret, Craven, Pamlico, Pitt, and Wayne counties representing a variety of conservative groups. Before we arrived, we were all aware that Sloan is working hard in a variety of ways to get Critical Race Theory removed from NC schools. What we did not know was the information contained in an article she had written just the day before. That information was new to all of us, and it was relatively new to Sloan. The article is on the Education First Alliance website and it is entitled, "Foreign Money Funding Student Data Collection, Critical Race Theory in North Carolina's Public Schools."

One of the things one learns by reading Sloan's article is that, within a month of the NC Board of Education's having passed a policy which will require that critical race theory be taught in all NC schools, the NC Board of Education and it's most outspoken advocate of critical race theory, James Ford (via his non-profit Center for Racial Equity in Education), reportedly received a sizeable grant from the Oak Foundation to "combat structural racism within the educational system" in NC. The Oak Foundation is based in Switzerland and reportedly has ties with China. Are you worried yet?

As if that were not shocking enough, how would you feel if you learned that a five year old in Craven County came home from school and told her parents that she thought she was gay because of ideas she was exposed to via a story read in her school in Bridgeton? (One of the attendees shared that incident from personal involvement.)

But I digress, back to Sloan's article. The Oak

Foundation chose the NC Board of Education so that they would participate in the grant's program called, "Learning for Equity: A Network for Solutions." What's that? Well, it re-trains teachers to educate through an "equity" and "culturally responsive" lens, and it influences the school system to adopt policies that guarantee equal outcomes among all students. You'll notice the words are "equal outcomes," not "equal opportunities." How in a free society can anyone guarantee equal outcomes??? Won't some students choose to work hard and apply themselves and other students choose to goof-off and play? If that's true, and it surely was when I was in school, how can equal outcomes be at all fair or reasonable?

In her article, Sloan goes on to tell us that one month before the announcement, the NC Board of Education released the draft of a resolution "to support equity in education" that (in Sloan's words) "parroted exactly the plan that the Oak Foundation sought to fund." Then, Sloan goes on to tell us that the final resolution called the "Equity and Excellence in North Carolina Public Education" was passed in September of 2020 by a 5 to 3 vote. In addition, Sloan reports that the NC "Department of Instruction has now installed its 'Transformative Social Emotional Learning' system framework to use as a 'lever of social justice and equity' in all 115 state school districts, and has requested $400k from the General Assembly to pay for its new "office of Equity Affairs." What is this new office to do? According to Sloan, indications are that its work will include ensuring "social and health" outcomes in children and mandates that "disaggregated and transparent data" be collected on all students to then stereotype them and give a "social score" in the name of achieving equal outcomes in the classroom. What? Isn't this parenting and social engineering? What does this have to do with teaching?

If you ask me, the General Assembly should NOT give one penny of our tax money for an "Office of Equity Affairs," AND the Board of Education and James Ford should be investigated for accepting foreign money to change what goes on in NC schools in the way THE FOREIGNERS want NC schools changed.

What do you think? Tell your General Assembly reps!
